

Transpot Manager

ALI Secretariat

PT

RichLand Logistics Indonesia ('RLI'), the Indonesian subsidiary of Ramba Energy Limited, commenced joint venture operations in 2007 with RichLand Logistics Services Pte Ltd, its Singapore-based sister company, to provide general transportation and warehousing services within Indonesia. RLI focuses on providing domestic transportation and distribution services as well as warehouse management operations in various key sectors, namely consumer products, technology, petrochemical and industrial sectors. RLI also continues to develop critical competencies to support the expanding oil and gas industry in Indonesia under its Project Logistics division.

Opportunity:

An

exciting opportunity has arisen to appoint a TransportManager to be principally responsible for the provision of the contracted outcome deliverables by Richland to the client contract and their customers at the site/region.

These

services include management of the shuttle operation out of the client's site and responsibility for the distribution on behalf of the client's contract to customers.

The

Transport Manager is required to manage a proactive and effective Transport Department team are also responsible for the management of pallet and din control; responsibility for duty paid storage movements; and the associated administrative and reporting functions.

Job scope:

Process

Coordinate the provision of the contracted outcome deliverables by Richland to the Client's contract and their customers in a timely and effective and efficient manner.Overseeing the efficient and profitable performance of the shuttle operation. This includes maximising vehicle utilisation (both time and volume); maximising the return of revenue per hour; being personally involved in non-management.Maintain a focus on continuous improvement in all areas of operations within the transport management responsibilities through the development of timely, accurate and auditable pallet and din and duty paid storage processes.Enhancing the effectiveness and use of the Computer System eg. through integration of the various fleets.Ensure the timely delivers of regular reports through the various reporting systems.

Customer

The effective utilisation of distribution resources which will deliver the most productive outcomes for Richland while meeting or exceeding the customer service benchmarks of our client.Deliver the most productive outcomes for Richland through the effective utilisation of transport resources while meeting or exceeding the customer service benchmarks of our client.Develops and maintains relationships and contacts with customer to enable objectives to be met.Ensures agreed customer objectives and measures are met.

FinanceProduce budget, resource and capital planning and weekly key performance reporting and analysis to ensure an efficient and cost effective transport operation.The development of a sound customer base which maximises our transport capabilities and maintains business development opportunities.Effectively utilise fleet and facilities to ensure the most efficient and cost effective operation.