Visit delegation Asosiasi Logistik Indonesia (ALI) on 01/11/2012

Thursday, November 1, delegation from Asosiasi Logistik Indonesia (ALI) visit the lectureship of logistics alliances of the HAN.

Lector Stef Weijers put in detail what the research group of activities, and the ultimate goal of the research group: feedback from the knowledge developed in education (students and teachers).

On behalf of the management of the FEM named institute director of ASD Dijk delagatie welcome to the HAN.

John Smith then gave explanations on the particular educational model of the HAN within the framework of the accreditation of the NVAO, the structure of the curriculum of the English BBA program Logistics Management Economics and realties with the education model of ELA (European Logistics Association).

During the interactive presentations there was plenty of discussion about the content of the research, the content and structure of the training logistics.

Were also discussed mutual contributions in the NUFFIC project: Logistic Living Labs Indonesia, where the professorship of Stef Weijers participates.

The idea is that there are 3 students per HAN February in Indonesia with logistics companies to do research.

It was also discussed that the project together ITB Bandung, VU University Amsterdam and the Professorship Logistics alliances of the HAN will be performed, a first logistics training at the Institut Teknologi Bandung to go up.
